Laundry organizations exist in San Francisco, Oakland and Sacramento. There are no unions in Los Angeles and San Diego. Some years ago these two cities had small unions but the last remnants of them have disappeared. The laundry situation in San Francisco is of peculiar interest as it is an universal belief that women are difficult to organize, but the laundries in San Francisco, where so many women are employed, have the distinction of being highly organized. Not a single steam laundry in San Francisco remains outside of the union agreement so far as could be discovered. The lowest wage under the union agreement is $7.00 per week. This is for apprentices in the shaking room and is permissible for two weeks only, after which period $8.00 must be paid. The mangle girls receive $8.50 and all folders...
