By Massachusetts Dept of Education

Forgotten Books, United States, 2016. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Annual Report of the Department of Education In the second period, 1860 - 90, psychology became the master science in the normal schools, and logical courses of study in all the branches naturally followed. New courses in music, drawing, and manual arts, laboratory science, and the social studies took their places with the Older subjects. The third period, 1890 - 1909, was the active period of teachers institutes, in which many members of the normal school faculties took leading parts. During the period the wide-spread nature study movement developed, which led to the establishment of natural science gardens and greenhouses at several normal schools. The fourth period, from 1910, onward, marks the rapid growth of the junior high school movement, with the consequent development of the four-year normal course culminating in the degree-granting power In 1929, the minimum elementary course was extended to three years, and, in 1931, the minimum junior high course was made four years.
