Cambridge University Press. Paperback. Condition: New. 328 pages. Dimensions: 9.0in. x 6.1in. x 0.7in. In Party Politics and Economic Reform in Africas Democracies, M. Anne Pitcher offers an engaging new theory to explain the different trajectories of private sector development across contemporary Africa. Pitcher argues that the outcomes of economic reforms depend not only on the kinds of institutional arrangements adopted by states in order to create or expand their private sectors, but also on the nature of party system competition and the quality of democracy in particular countries. To illustrate her claim, Pitcher draws on several original data sets covering twenty-seven countries in Africa, and detailed case studies of the privatization process in Zambia, Mozambique, and South Africa. This study underscores the importance of formal institutions and political context to the design and outcome of economic policies in developing countries. This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg,OR, La Vergne,TN. Paperback.
