Excerpt: .These hills slope to its water s edge with a steady descent, giving the lake a very interesting appearance. A Swiss man by the name of J. R. Hoesli, now deceased, once informed the writer, that when a young man, he came to America and made his residence in New York city for twenty years. Becoming sick of city life, and retaining a strong attachment for the scenery of the home of his youth, by the side of a lake in Switzerland, he started in search among the lakes of our Northern States, for one that should bear the closest resemblance to his home lake. After visiting great numbers of them, both in Northern New England and in this State, he finally came to Otisco lake; and the moment his eyes rested on its waters, with its surrounding scenery, he felt that his strongest desires had been granted him-that here was his sweet Swiss lake. At the t .me Mr. Hoesli gave me this information, he had already resided on its Eastern shore for nearly twenty years, in possession of several acres of land under the highest state of cultivation; a portion of which was devoted to a vineyard containing twentyfive varieties of grapes in a very fruitful condition, besides trees of Apples, Pears, Peaches and Plums in a high state of perfec tlon. Mr. Hoesli was a man of superior endowments of mind and and culture. Was a first-class Civil Engineer; having received a /medal...
