Are you ready to be inspired 365 days a year? I had so much fun writing this book and each story has a special place in my heart. You will never look at your barn chores or riding your horses in the same way again and this book will inspire you in ways you never thought possible. This devotional will make you smile, laugh and even tear up at times. Running a horse business or owning horses for pleasure can be great and once in a while you can have a challenging day. Each story and experience brings me back to the Lord and shows me how my life relates to everything that I do on our horse farm and in every horse I work with. At the end of each day and story is a bible verse that I truly believe relates to what the story is talking about. As I was writing this book I became more and more lifted up with each story I put down on paper. I pray this book will lift you up each day before you head out to the barn or give you a peace after a long day working with horses. This book will give you a renewed excitement for all that you can be in the world of horses.
