Lulu Publishing Services, United States, 2014. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .In this book, the author unravels the mysterious science, yin and yang, of the Far East and discusses its practical applications to common but important topics of our daily life: food, nutrition, health and medicine. For questions that have boggled the mind of scientists like the mystery of the power of a pyramid or the incomprehensible movements of Tai Chi or the disappearing of some diseases or the warm weather of Siberia millennia ago and also the biblical question: Did Eve eat an apple or a pomegranate?, the author provides clear explanations with a conviction, through the yin and yang spectacles. The most important question for mankind is the world peace formula: It has been found thousands of years ago, and it is also presented in this book.
