

Policing Our Own: We Can Fix Our Problems (Paperback)

By Timothy Lane Trull Sr

Createspace, United States, 2015. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . One Saturday, I was working the 3-11pm shift as a Police Officer. When I first came on shift that morning, my supervisor told us during our briefing to look out for a stolen, Gold in color Cadillac that was stolen from a local dealership. When you are on patrol after a supervisor makes a statement like that, every other car it seems is a Gold Cadillac. Anyway, I happened upon a Gold in color Cadillac turning right onto Raeford Rd. near Seventy First High School. I ran the tag, and it came back as stolen. The car saw me and quickly did a U-Turn and started heading the other direction. I did a U-Turn also, and the vehicle was going really fast, and out running me as I was more focused on calling it in than catching up to the car at that moment. As I drove further, I saw the Cadillac had crashed, and had the door open, and all the people were pointing toward a church about 300 meters away from the Cadillac. I really felt lost as I did...

READ ONLINE
[1.55 MB]

Reviews

This is basically the very best publication i actually have go through until now. It really is loaded with knowledge and wisdom I realized this publication from my i and dad encouraged this publication to discover.

-- Bryana Klocko III

The very best publication i possibly read. it was writtern very perfectly and useful. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

-- Wilhelm Predovic