I hereby submit to you my report respecting the work in English Language and Literature during the year just ended. Courses One and-Seven. English Grammar and Speeches. Conducted by Mr. Demmon. These Courses are identical, and one of them is required of all students for graduation. During the past year one hundred and forty-six students took this work. The classes completed Abbott's How to Write Clearly, and the chapters in How to Parse that treat of Difficulties and Irregularities of Modern English. Two original speeches were required of each student. The manuscripts, nearly three hundred in number, were all carefully criticised by the instructor and returned to the student to be rewritten, if necessary, and to be committed to memory and spoken...
