Excerpt from A Historical of the Quitman Guards: Company E Sixteenth Mississippi Regiment, Harris Brigade, From Its Organization in Holmesville, 21st April, 1851, to the Surrender of the Army of Northern Virginia, 9th April, 1863 The author of the following pages was induced to engage in the work of preparing them for the public eye, by the earnest solicitations of those who feel a deep interest in the career of the quit man guards, and by the request of the remaining members of that company, by whose side he has stood in the scenes which he has so feebly depicted. Fully aware of his inability to prepare a work that would pass the ordeal of criticism, and interest the general reader, he shrank from the task, as beyond his capacity; but being Unwilling that the heroic conduct and unwavering patriotism of the quitman guards should sink unrecorded into oblivion, he nerved himself for the task, and the following pages are the result. Having to write principally from memory, he could not, in many instances, give the exact date of important incidents, and...
