EDITOR: If the following true experience -m-I shall prove of any advantage to any of your readers, I shall be glad. I was going into town the other morning, when my wife handed me a little piece of red calico, and asked me if I would have time, during the day, to buy her two yards and a half of calico like that. I assured her that it would be no trouble at all; and putting the piece of calico in my pocket, I took the train for the city. At lunch-time I stopped in at a large dry-goods store to attend to my wife s commission. I saw a well-dressed man walking the floor between the counters, where long lines of girls were waiting on much longer lines of customers, and asked him where I could see some red calico. This way, sir, and he led me up the store. Miss Stone, said he to a young lady, show this gentleman some red calico. What shade do you want? asked Miss Stone. I showed her the little piece of calico that my wife had given me. She looked at it and handed it back to me. Then she took down a great roll of red calico and spread it out on the counter. Why, that isn t the shade! said I. No, not exactly, said she; but it is prettier than your sample. That may be,...
