Giddings, who was formerly seized of the premises, has recovered a judgment against the tenant for her dower in the premises. The demandants offered an office copy of a deed from James Crosby, conveying to Miles the demanded premises. This was objected to, but it was received. They also proved the intermarriage of Miles and said Ruth Anne, and that Miles died without children, leaving Ruth Anne, his widow, and the tenant, his father; they also proved their own intermarriage, and that the dower had been seasonably demanded. The tenant introduced an instrument of conveyance from Miles to the tenant, of one undivided half of the demanded premises. It was without seal, and was signed by Ruth Anne, T there being a paragraph in it, purporting her relinquishment of dower. The tenant also proved, that Mrs. Giddings, the widow of a former proprietor, had...
