"On October 23, 1983, nearly simultaneous suicide truck bombings killed 241 U.S. peacekeepers in their barracks at the Beirut International Airport and 58 French paratroopers at their headquarters two miles away. In this long-awaited book, the Marine commander of the U.S. Multi-National Peacekeeping Force that was destroyed by terrorists in Lebanon tells his story for the first time. The bombing of the Marine barracks was the largest nonnuclear explosion ever recorded and is now recognized as a seminal event leading to the current war on terrorism. Such acts of war revealed a new, highly effective tactic that complemented the terrorists' strategic goals - the withdrawal of the peacekeepers and Western influence from Lebanon and a change in U.S. policy. (This book) lays out, in detail, a sequence of events leading up to the Marine barracks bombing from which one can extrapolate the rationale, motives, and perpetrators behind it. Geraghty argues that the absence of any retribution against those responsible emboldened the terrorists to assume they could attack Americans and Western interests with impunity. This led to kidnappings, torture, and murders of Americans and other Westerners. (This book) is Colonel Garaghty's personal, gripping account of an important historical event whose shock waves are still reverberating today." New, unread copy: spine square/one TINY nick at heel else the book is perfect (pages white) with NO markings throughout. The dj has VERY minor rubbing, TINY bit of creasing at upper edge of back and at lower edge of front else it's perfect, also, with no other flaws....
