Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Duke Aesculapian, 1964 The story of Dr. Engel s success clearly begins with the dna of his mother and father. They produced three boys, and each has made his mark in the world. Lewis Engel is a distinguished biochemist at Harvard University. George Engel is Professor of Psychiatry and Professor of Medicine at University of Rochester, and Frank was Professor of Medicine and Associate Professor of Physiology at Duke. Frank was a scholar and a scientist and received international acclaim for his work on the mechanism of action of the hormones produced by ductless glands. He enjoyed the laboratory and was never willing to give Up working at the bench with his own hands. He attracted to Emory and Duke many residents, fellows and graduate students. Ten of his disciples have already climbed to professorial rank. Frank was an unusually gifted teacher. He taught effectively at all levels. First year medical students, third and fourth-year medical students, interns, residents, fellows and faculty col leagues all came under his spell. His work in physiology with the first - year students was one of the most effective recruiting devices ever developed by the Department of Medicine.
