Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Outline Studies in Acts, Romans, First and Second Corinthians, Galatians and Ephesians Lord s hands of founding and developing the new society, the Church of the Lord Jesus Christ. And it is mainly this history our book traces. I. Relation OF the acts TO the other books OF the new testament. - NO book of Scripture is entirely isolated; none stands apart from others as an independent composition. The Bible is like an arch, and each separate book fills its own place therein, is indispensable to its permanency and symmetry. The Acts must not be viewed as an isolated writing, but rather as an integral and essential part of the whole volume. It is the tie that binds together the Gospels and the Epistles. Its relation to Matthew and Mark is very close. It is unnecessary to speak of its con nection with the third Gospel, as Luke himself does so. In style and diction, in modes of thought and forms of expression the two books are unmistakably the produc tion of one and the same author. But the relation is deeper far than inere outward resemblance; it is organic, vital. Acts rests on the facts of the Gospel history. It assumes those facts as well known. Jesus Christ is the central figure of the book, as He is of those that precede it. The mission of the Apostles is to bear witness of Him; to testify of His life, His ministry, His death, resurrection, and exaltation. Jesus, approved of God, anointed with the Holy Spirit, presented unto men as the divinely commissioned Saviour, is the august theme of all apostolic testimony in our book.
