THE SCIENCE OF MIND

White Crow Books. Paperback. Condition: New. 370 pages. Dimensions: 8.9in. x 6.0in. x 0.4in. The Science of Mind is Ernest Holmes Magnum Opus. The book was updated and revised over the years and this edition was originally published in 1926. In 1918, Holmes wrote in the introduction, This little book is an attempt to explain what each soul must discover for himself, that he stands in the midst of an eternal creative power which presses itself around his own thought, and casts back to him glorified all that he thinks. Later in the book he goes on to say, The Science of Mind is based entirely upon the supposition that we are surrounded by a Universal Mind into which we think; this Mind, in Its original state, fills all space with Its Presence. Since it fills all space, it fills the space that man uses in the Universe. It is in man as well as outside of him. As he thinks into this Universal Mind he sets in motion a Law which is creative, and which contains within itself a limitless possibility. Holmes was influenced by the writings of Christian Larson, Phineas Quimby, Thomas Troward, Ralph Waldo Emerson, and Mary Baker Eddy, and he formed part of what was known as the New Thought Movement. The catalyst of what became New Thought seems to been Phineas Quimby, a New England, Hypnotist, Philosopher, and Healer, who inspired amongst others, Mary Baker Eddy, (a patient of Quimbys) to form the Christian Science Movement. New Thought posits that everything is mind (the mind of God) and that we all have equal access to God by accessing mind. This is done by prayer or more specifically, Affirmative Prayer or scientific prayer. Affirmative prayer focuses on a positive rather than a negative situation. For example, a...
