Parsons, Before the Pioneer Association, at North Solon, Ohio, August 30, 1876 I am here this morning because I feel under a great personal debt to the people of Solon. For nearly a quarter of a century they have been my warm and steadfast friends, and to them I owe a large and generous debt of gratitude, which time will serve rather to increase than diminish. And though no man can be more pain fully conscious than myself, of my utter inability to fill the place of the distinguished gentleman, our friend General garfield, who was expected here to-day, nor in the limited time allowed me for preparation can I do but scanty justice to myself, yet I felt bound, at any sacrifice of personal feeling, to come here in answer to your urgent call, and do the best in my power to entertain you for a few moments with some thoughts suggested by your gathering. I shall not attempt to retrace the history of your Society, or take up your time in...
