Dog Ear Publishing, LLC. Paperback. Condition: New. 360 pages. Dimensions: 9.1in. x 6.1in. x 0.9in. William McMillan had been quite a phenomenon with his selfless dedication to serve and protect. His professional life had taken off like a rocket and in some circles he was destined to become the future Chief of Police some day. His personal life had been immensely satisfying after his marriage with Joan, who gifted him with the most beautiful baby daughter, Anita. He is assigned to a covert investigation on police corruption which completely changed the color of his life and shattered his dreams forever. He gets framed for a crime he never committed, his innocent wife succumbs to her third degree burns inflicted upon her in a deliberate act of arson, he gets a twenty six year prison sentence and his beloved baby daughter is placed in the States custody. Shocked by the public disgrace, the brutal murder of his innocent wife and the separation from his baby daughter, in prison his sole mission in life becomes to reconcile with his daughter and have his revenge against the four men who doctored the law, cooked up false evidence and destroyed all that he had once held dear in life. After his release from prison twenty six years later, he sets on the most brutal mission of vengeance against the four men who had destroyed him. He learns to his dismay, that the key architect of his destruction had completely misled the general public as a political figure and had successfully managed to sway their opinion in his favor. He had become a Senator and was well in line for the highest office in the United States. The search for this daughter leads him to the most difficult crossroads in his life. His daughter will stop...
