Fifty Years of Re-Creating the Middle Ages: A History of the Society for Creative Anachronism (Paperback)

By Steven Muhlberger

Stonebunny Press, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . The Society for Creative anachronism, which started out essentially as a backyard party in the 60s, is now a world-wide organization with members in the tens of thousands. To mark the occasion of the Society s 50th anniversary in 2016, Steven Muhlberger was asked to write a history of the organization, from its fledgling days when hobbits and elves were not an uncommon sight, to recent times when much more emphasis is placed on historical accuracy. Dr. Muhlberger was uniquely qualified for this task. He is a professional historian with seven scholarly books to his name, and has a long and diverse experience in the SCA, where he is known as Duke Finnvarr de Taahe. Under that name he has been recognized for excellence in tournament combat, reigned twice as king, and been honored for high accomplishment in the arts and exceptional service to the organization. Dr. Muhlberger describes how the Society originated in the unique environment of California s Bay Area; how a combination of discontent and whimsical creativity led a small group of young people to stage a tournament and then...
