The Czar of all the Russias himself could hardly have occupied a more prominent position in the black books of Anarchy in general. To-day he had taken a step nearer his doom by clouting one Nixon minor, Vice-President of the Anarchists, on the side of the head. It was during the geography hour. Mr. Bull had asked Nixon to define a watershed. Nixon, who upon the previous evening had been too much occupied with his duties as Vice-President of the Anarchists to do much prep had replied with a seraphic smile that a watershed was a place to shelter from the rain. As an improvised effort the answer seemed to him an extremely good one; but Mr. Bull had promptly left his seat, addressed Nixon as a cheeky little hound, and committed the assault complained of. This sort of thing, observed Rumford tertius, the President, cant go on. What shall we do We might saw one of the legs of his chair through, suggested one of the members. Whos going to do it inquired the President. Well only get slain. Silence fell, as it usually does when the question of belling the cat arrives at the practical stage. We could report him to the Head, said another voice. We might get him the sack for assault--even quod! We could show Nixons head to him. It would be a sound scheme to make it bleed a bit before we...
