Book Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: Springer, Berlin | This book is a result of ISD2000-The Ninth International Conference on Information Systems Development: Methods and Tools, Theory and Practice, held August 14-16, in Kristiansand, Norway. The ISD conference has its roots in the first Polish Scandinavian Seminar on Current Trends in Information Systems Development Methodologies, held in Gdansk, Poland in 1988. This year, as the conference carries into the new millennium this fine tradition, it was fitting that it returned to Scandinavia. Velkommen tilbake! Next year, ISD crosses the North Sea and in the traditions of the Vikings, invades England. Like every ISD conference, ISD2000 gave participants an opportunity to express ideas on the current state of the art in information systems development, and to discuss and exchange views about new methods, tools and applications. This is particularly important now, since the field of ISD has seen rapid, and often bewildering, changes. To quote a Chinese proverb, we are indeed cursed, or blessed, depending on how we choose to look at it, to be "living in interesting times". | Section 1: Perspectives on Information Systems Development. The Machine is Not the Woman: Cyberfeminism and the Techno-Determinism of Information Systems; J. Arnold. To Err is Human: Implications for Information Systems Development; G.J. Bakehouse. CRISP: The Campaign for Real Information Systems Production; M.F. Chester. Methodological Rigour and Methodology Relevance in IS Development; S.K. Probert. Section 2: Information Systems Development Methods. The Impact of Reference Modeling in MRPII/ERP Systems on Business Process Reengineering; G. Bartoszewicz. A Maturity Framework for the Enterprise Modeling and Engineering Process; K. Borgen, O. Ohren. Development Methods for Knowledge Intensive Applications; I.T. Hawryskiewicz. Framework Oriented Software Development and its Challenges: Commercial Software Solutions Provider Perspective; R. Polovina, et al. Are Use Cases Necessarily the Best Start of An OO...
