Examples include em-ployee grievances, management of operational activities, con-tracting procedures, effective use of resources on new technology, covert action programs, and financial management practices. During the 108th Congress, the Committee continued its work to ensure the effectiveness and independence of the administrative In-spectors General at the National Reconnaissance Office (NRO), the National Security Agency (NSA), the National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency (NGA), and the Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA). The Committee reinforced the importance of the IG function through its regular interaction with the agency directors, the IGs, and their staffs. In response to language in the Committees Intel-igence Authorization Bills, the administrative IGs also submitted annual reports to the Committee detailing their requests for fiscal and personnel resources, and the plan for their use. These reports included the...
