Carl Brecht, an anthropologist, returns to Nepal with his daughter, Kathy, to attend a convention involving the Paramedic Training of Shamans. They don't expect to become entangled with conspirators, who assassinate the royal family and their guests at a dinner party on June 1, 2001, an actual historical event. The setting of this mystery and adventure novel begins with domestic stress in a Chicago suburb, where Carl lives with his wife, Barbara, and their two children, Kathy and Mark. Their problems are minor compared with the strife taking place at the royal palace in Kathmandu during a time of severe political unrest and economic instability. Carl intends to depart on a flight from O'Hare Field with Kathy the day after her high school graduation party on May 21st. He has been married to Barbara for 24 years and is reluctant to leave her behind since she's feeling abandoned from the empty nest syndrome. Barbara is worried about Carl and Kathy traveling to Nepal where Maoist terrorists have been systematically taking over the police stations. Their older son,...
