Sono Nis Press. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 160 pages. Dimensions: 7.7in. x 5.2in. x 0.5in. Josh put his finger on the word and tried to sound it out. D-d-d-d . . . By the time he got to the bottom of the page, a headache had started to pound behind his left ear. He snapped the book shut and shoved it across the table. I hate reading. Eleven-year-old Joshs summer is getting off to a bad start. Its the first week of vacation, but instead of being out on the water in his nifty sailing dinghy, hes stuck in the library with the latest in a long string of tutors. Josh is dyslexic and since he moved out west to live with Dad, a whole new crop of kids have been teasing him about his problems writing and reading. At least Josh loves living at the marina on Dad s cruising yacht. Hes counting the days until his brother, Matt, still back in Toronto with their mom, comes out to join Josh and his dad for a sailing trip. When a mean classmate, Brittany, bets Josh he cant beat her in an upcoming boat race, Josh isnt too worried. With Matt as his racing partner, hell stand a good chance. But when the news comes that Matt has to enroll in summer school instead, Joshs anxiety goes into overdrive. If he loses the race to Brittany, hell have to volunteer as a reader at the library his worst nightmare! Its time for Josh to prove what hes made of, and readers will cheer him on as help comes from unexpected quarters. Combining sailing lore, page-turning adventure and gentle humour, first-time novelist Jenny Watson has crafted an engaging, encouraging tale. Joshs story comes full of inspiration, not just for the learning...
