Forgotten Books, United States, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Work and Happiness to Everybody: An Earnest Plea to Every Voter Regardless of Party or Creed In the following I appeal to every voter - no matter what party or creed. I trust the most conservative will admit that conditions in this world are not as good as they could be, and that something should be done to improve this state of affairs. Further, that the most radical ought to take one slice of bread rather than none. When we get started and find that we are on the right track, we can slowly increase speed, but we must be careful not to tear down more than we can build. The man who tears down his house, no matter how poor it is, before he has a better one, is a fool. We must learn of nature. It does not create grain or fruit in an instant. We must, therefore, have patience and cultivate, sow and weed before we can expect to reap the harvest. Whenever I criticise the government in this booklet, I blame the voters as they elect the government, and when I make any assertion against the government, I do so against myself as I am a voter. Whenever he is mentioned in this booklet, she, as a rule, is also meant. You will find some things repeated, but it is the constant hammering that breaks the stone, and the constant drop of water that hollows same. The tattoo alarm clock repeats the same over and over again. The owner may hear its first call, but it is only after it is repeated several times that he sits up and takes notice - so it is...
