

A Taxonomy of Love (Hardback)

By Rachael Allen

Abrams, United States, 2018. Hardback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. The moment Spencer meets Hope the summer before seventh grade, it's . . . something at first sight. He knows she's special, possibly even magical. The pair become fast friends, climbing trees and planning world travels. After years of being outshone by his older brother and teased because of his Tourette syndrome, Spencer finally feels like he belongs. But as Hope and Spencer get older and life gets messier, the clear label of friend gets messier, too. Through sibling feuds and family tragedies, new relationships and broken hearts, the two grow together and apart, and Spencer, an aspiring scientist, tries to map it all out using his trusty system of taxonomy. He wants to identify and classify their relationship, but in the end, he finds that life doesn't always fit into easy-to-manage boxes, and it's this messy complexity that makes life so rich and beautiful.

Reviews

This book is definitely not effortless to begin on reading through but extremely fun to read. Sure, it can be enjoyed, continue to an amazing and interesting literature. I realized this book from my dad and I recommended this pdf to understand.

The most effective ebook I possibly go through. I am quite late in starting reading this one, but better than never. It's been designed in an extremely basic way and it is just after I finished reading this ebook by which basically transformed me, modified the way I believe.
