Hiring the Next Generation of Faculty Winter 2010: New Directions for Community Colleges (Paperback)

By CC (Community Colleges)

John Wiley Sons Inc, United States, 2011. Paperback. Condition: New. 10th ed.. Language: English . Brand New Book. The first chapter in this volume presents an overview of the faculty personnel challenges facing community colleges; the next three discuss the socialization and professional development of new faculty. Authors stress the importance of understanding differences among the types of community colleges and the importance of gender and racial/ethnic diversity among the faculty of the institutions who educate the majority of undergraduate females and students of color. The volume concludes with chapters on legal aspects related to the faculty employment and the experiences of presidents and senior instructional administrators, giving valuable guidance to those actively involved in the hiring process. At the heart of this volume is the continued commitment to the community college ideal of providing educational access and, through quality instruction, facilitating student learning and success. Previous research indicated that community college faculty retire at or near the traditional age of sixty-five. With an aging faculty, enrollments that are reaching unprecedented levels, and the federal government calling for the community college to take an even greater role in workforce training, community colleges will need to both replace significant portions of...
