Quercus Arborealis Publications, 2015. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .A fully indexed compilation of Birth, Marriage, and Death notices, with reports of other Auspicious and Adverse Events, from The Northern Standard newspaper, 1839-1847. On January 12, 1839, Arthur Wellington Holmes (c.1811-1851) launched The Northern Standard from his office at 26, Mill-street, Monaghan. Mr. Holmes aimed to publish not only the first newspaper in the county of Monaghan, but also one of a High Tory character in a staunchly liberal region. This book presents transcriptions of articles selected from historic editions of The Northern Standard published between January, 1839 and December, 1847. During this nine-year period, the Standard carried a fascinating array of local and national events such as: the Presbyterian marriage question; the notorious bigamy trials of Copeland v Browne, and the Queen v Mary Downes; the abduction of Jane M Kee by John Feehan; marriage festivities, and funerary customs; the concurrent illnesses, and deaths just one day apart, of the Earl of Besborough, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, in Dublin, and of Mr. Daniel O Connell, M.P., at Genoa in Italy; and, the ravages of starvation and disease during the early years...
