TRANSNATIONAL ACTIVISM AND NATIONAL MOVEMENTS IN LATIN AMERICA: BRIDGING THE DIVIDE

Routledge. Paperback Condition: New. During the 1990s, as widespread perception spread of declining state sovereignty, activists and social movement organizations began to form transnational networks and coalitions to pressure both intergovernmental organizations and national governments on a variety of issues. Research has focused on the formation of these transnational networks, campaigns, and coalitions; their objectives, strategies and tactics; and their impact. Yet the issue of how participation in transnational networks influences national level mobilization has been little analyzed. What effects...
