Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Arguably the greatest sermon in Christian theology, the Sermon on the Mount is prefaced by the Beatitudes. While The Beatitudes: From Poor in Heart to Pure in Heart has been written with a Mormon audience in mind, because no single study by General Authorities or LDS writers has addressed these seminal verses in depth, Jesus intended the principles set forth in the Beatitudes for all who profess faith in Him. The Beatitudes are to the new testament of Christ what the Ten Commandments were to the old testament of Jehovah, both given by the same Supreme Being. With the Beatitudes, the Savior elevated the Ten Commandments at the heart of the law of Moses from a person's outward behavior to the spiritual attitudes for living the law of Christ. Therefore, they begin with the new sacrifice of a broken heart and a contrite spirit: the Old Testament fire that consumed an animal became the baptism of fire through the Holy Spirit that consumes the natural man with each of us, empowering men and women to fulfill the measure of their creation-to become perfect even as our Savior and our Father in heaven are perfect (see 3 Ne 12:48). The cadence of the Beatitudes echoes heavenly music, complete with a poetic text straight from the lips of God that creates an ascending crescendo, encouraging the disciple of Christ to hold fast to the iron rod as it leads forward to the tree of life and a celestial reunion with the Savior and Heavenly Father. By introducing the Sermon on the Mount and the Sermon before the ancient temple at Bountiful, the Beatitudes act like the principal motif of a Bach...
