

Forest Guardians, Forest Destroyers: The Politics of Environmental Knowledge in Northern Thailand

By Tim Forsyth, Andrew Walker, K. Sivaramakrishnan

University of Washington Press. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Forest Guardians, Forest Destroyers: The Politics of Environmental Knowledge in Northern Thailand, Tim Forsyth, Andrew Walker, K. Sivaramakrishnan, In this far-reaching examination of environmental problems and politics in northern Thailand, Tim Forsyth and Andrew Walker analyze deforestation, water supply, soil erosion, use of agrochemicals, and biodiversity in order to challenge popularly held notions of environmental crisis. They argue that such crises have been used to support political objectives of state expansion and control in the uplands. They have also been used to justify the alternative directions advocated by an array of NGOs. In official and alternative discourses of economic development, the peoples living in Thailand's hill country are typically cast as either guardians or destroyers of forest resources, often depending on their ethnicity. Political and historical factors have created a simplistic, misleading, and often scientifically inaccurate environmental narrative: Hmong farmers, for example, are thought to exhibit environmentally destructive practices, whereas the Karen are seen as linked to and protective of their ancestral home. Forsyth and Walker reveal a much more complex relationship of hill farmers to the land, to other ethnic groups, and to the state. They conclude that current explanations...
