Good News Publishers, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. SIDE BY SIDE Bear one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ. (Galatians 6:2) We all need help and we are all helpers--that's part of being human. We need help for our souls, especially while going through hardships. We weren't designed to go through hard things alone. But what does it look like to help each other well? The people who help best are people who both need help and give help--being able to share their burdens and to bear the burdens of others. A healthy community depends on all of us being both. NEEDY AND NEEDED Three times I pleaded with the Lord about this [hardship], that it should leave me. But he said to me, My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness. Therefore I will boast all the more gladly of my weaknesses, so that the power of Christ may rest upon me. (2 Corinthians 12:8-9) The ability to help and be helped begins by acknowledging our own human weakness and dependence on God. If you feel weak and ordinary--if you feel like a mess but have the Spirit--you have the right credentials. You are one of the ordinary people God uses to help others. As helpers, we are also needed. With wisdom from the Holy Spirit, we move toward others when they're in need. Once the greetings are over, the pleasure of knowing someone begins. This means having thoughtful conversations--ones that go below the surface niceties. What follows is a fulfilling, though not always easy, process of sharing stories, expressing compassion during times of trouble, and having difficult discussions about sin. We don't aim to draw out problems so that...
