Reviews

This pdf is definitely not easy to get started on studying but quite entertaining to read through. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.

I did but cull them, lady, A chevalier entwined, And oh! he sung most gaily, And kissed those he did bind. Then, lady, this one choose, Twill never its beauty lose. SUMMER IS HERE. Merry Summer is here; yes, Summer is here, With the gay sun shining so bright, But yet to old Winter we'll even drop a tear, For tho' of his chill blast we sometimes had fear, Who loved not his evening's delight? Merry Summer is here, the young birds chirp forth, And the parent ones lead the strain; Stern Boreas' car hath rolled back to the north, On nations far distant he hurleth his wrath, While here laughing Summer doth reign. That young Summer is here the flowers will tell, As her presence with blushes they greet; And roses and daisies, and graceful blue bell, With lilies and tulips, and bright pimpernel, Form her bower of every sweet. The butterfly proudly expandeth his wings, And shines as a spruce, gallant beau; While the sweet bird of night melodiously sings, And forest and valley with harmony rings, And the fountain doth murmuring flow. Merry Summer is here, so let us be gay, While Nature inviteth to mirth; Or if we neglect to be glad while we may, A cloud may steal over the sun of our day, And nought will those moments be...
