How we raised our children to Serve the LORD Observing their children s needs as they grow, Authors Philip and Fe Stack encouraged their successes, accentuated their positive attributes, affirmed their use of good judgments, and most importantly, emphasized the family motto, Do not hurt yourself. As you read of a family cut from the cloth of typical daily living, you ll see how each of the children eventually came to the point of accepting the Lord and living for Him. Ooooo As both parents and doctors. Phil and Fe Stack, married 47 years; have much to share about family life. Phil has a Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology and is a marriage and family therapist. Fe is a medical doctor specializing in Psychiatry. Though retired, they perceive their retirement years as a call to grand parenting. The Stacks also serve as advocates for the elderly in nursing home facilities. Through a creative greeting card ministry. Phil gives personalized spiritual comfort to those spending their last days in a hospice environment. His greatest joy is being asked to be the guest speaker...

Reviews

An incredibly great book with perfect and lucid answers. Better than never, though i am quite late in start reading this one. You will not sense monotony at whenever you want of the time (that's what catalogues are for relating to if you question me).
