By Palmer Union Oil Company

Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from California's Greatest Industry: A Review of Its Resources and Prospects The first successful well in California was drilled by Thos. Scott in Ventura County in 1866. In the late 70's other successful wells were drilled near Newhall; but it was not until 1882, when Lyman Stewart and W. L. Hardison undertook to develop prospective oil lands near Santa Paula, that the industry was fairly launched. Ventura County was selected as the field of operations by the pioneers in the industry for the reason that the oil was of a superior quality for refining purposes. At this time there was no market for fuel oil. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
