Biopolitics, Militarism, and Development: Eritrea in the Twenty-First Century

By David O'Kane, Tricia Redeker Hepner

Berghahn Books. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Biopolitics, Militarism, and Development: Eritrea in the Twenty-First Century, David O'Kane, Tricia Redeker Hepner, "This volume offers significant and new information on and insights into current developments in many different areas and - thanks to a comprehensive bibliography on Eritrea and theoretical foundations of the concept of biopolitics as an appendix - inspirations for further general readings and reflections in the field of political.science." * Peripherie Bringing together original, contemporary ethnographic research on the Northeast African state of Eritrea, this book shows how biopolitics - the state-led deployment of disciplinary technologies on individuals and population groups - is assuming particular forms in the twenty-first century. Once hailed as the "African country that works," Eritrea's apparently successful post-independence development has since lapsed into economic crisis and severe human rights violations. This is due not only to the border war with Ethiopia that began in 1998, but is also the result of discernible tendencies in the "high modernist" style of social mobilization for development first adopted by the Eritrean government during the liberation struggle (1961-1991) and later carried into the post-independence era. The contributions to this volume reveal and interpret the links between development...
